Contract Overview

Network-Centric Solutions-2 Network Operations and Infrastructure Solutions Small Business (NOSB), IDIQ, contract provides the United States Air Force (USAF) with Network-centric Information Technology, Networking, Security, Voice, Video, and Data Communications, systems, solutions and services to satisfy the Combat Support, Command and Control, and Intelligence Reconnaissance and Surveillance Air Force and DoD requirements worldwide.

OCONUS Contracting Officers can use the small business contract vehicle for direct access to a broader range of NOSB Contractors. Additional benefits include:

- ✓ No fee to use NETCENTS-2
- ✓ Decentralized ordering
- ✓ Improved efficiency with standardized task orders
- ✓ Seven year contract facilitates multi-year periods of performance

This contract vehicle is the mandatory source for all Air Force units purchasing services that fall under the scope of the NETCENTS NOSB contract.

"When we started this company in 1999, our first customer was the US Air Force Europe (USAFE). We have been serving USAFE for sixteen years and winning this new contract reflects our continuous commitment to the Air Force's mission, our outstanding customer service, and our ability to deliver comprehensive solutions on a global basis," said Linda Thorp, ACT-Corp CEO. "We are proud to represent the small business community on this contract and look forward to our continued support to the Air Force over the next seven years under NOSB."
